Flexible Connectors: Metal

Flexible Metal Pump Connectors and Flexible Metal Hose Assemblies from Twin City Hose, Inc.

You've got problems with your piping system...

- Excessive noise and dangerous vibration
- Thermal growth harming valuable equipment
- Misalignment among piping elements

Those problems carry a price: Sky-high maintenance costs, early metal fatigue, and a noisy plant. In short, the premature death of your piping system and equipment!

That's why you need answers NOW!

How To Solve Your Motion Problems.

Flexible connectors are your answer. They'll neutralize mechanical equipment vibration in your system by isolating it at the connection.

They'll absorb thermal growth motion and compensate for misalignment, protecting the investment you've made in piping and equipment.

Flexible connectors also minimize stress and early fatigue problems. Remember, less vibration equals less noise. Flexible connectors help your plant run quieter.

Flexible connectors are the answer to your motion problems. Integrate these shock absorbers with your piping system. You'll lengthen your investment's lifetime and insure its safety.
